

Crawford Soil and Water Conservation District

Neighbor to Neighbor Conservation Series

This workshop series is a chance to get to see what is happening around our county in the Conservation and Ag fields! Join us for one or all of these unique workshops. Each evening will begin at a local farm/residence and last no more than two hours. Each will offer information, tour, and a chance for questions and answers. Workshops will be held in the barn or outdoors, so dress appropriately.

Hops Farm

Wednesday, August 15th at 6:00 P.M.

Farm is located on Orr Rd, 1/4 mile east of Knauss Rd. in Lykens Twp.

Learn how to grow, tend and harvest hops for your own home brews during this unique workshop hosted by Knauss Hops LLC. Farm owner Glen Tooman will lead an informative workshop that will cover sourcing and purchasing plants, preparing fields and infrastructure, growing and harvesting hops, and disease management.

Canning Basics

Wednesday, September 5th at 6:00 P.M.

Bucyrus Public Library, Meeting Room 200 E. Mansfield St, Bucyrus

Are you interested in learning about how to can foods at home, safely? If so, you should attend this hour-long session lead by Abby Snyder, food safety field specialist at The Ohio State University. You will learn about the different canning methods and equipment available, what foods are well-suited to food preservation, and how to minimize the risk of foodborne illness resulting from improperly canned foods.

Wine Making

Wednesday, October 3rd at 6:00 P.M.

1110 New Washington Rd, Bloomville

This program will be led by Ed Weisenauer, who has over 40 years of experience making home made wine. This evening will cover the basic wine making ins and outs.

Contact the Crawford SWCD for questions or to register for one or all of these workshops by calling our office at 419-562-8280 ext 3, emailing diane.sand@oh.nacdnet.net or stop in at 3111 State Route 98, Bucyrus. Registration is required by the Friday before each workshop date.
