Featured Speaker: Dr. Marissa Hake, DVM

Dr. Marissa Hake is a graduate of Michigan State University where she received her Bachelor's degree in Animal Science, a Doctorate in Veterinary Medicine and a Masters in Public Health. She lives in NW Ohio with her full-time farming husband Travis and their two sons McCoy and Hayes. Marissa is passionate about communicating with consumers about modern agriculture through her personal social media accounts - @CalfVet on Facebook and @CalfVet_ on Instagram. Her full time job is working for fairlife (the milk brand!) as the Director of Animal Welfare and Sustainable Farming for fairlife. Additionally, she has a beef cow herd of British White Cattle. She spends her days balancing being a farmer's wife, boy mom, veterinarian and beef producer! Beyond her everyday life, she loves to give a behind-the-scenes look at raising kids and cattle and starting a small business - all with a heavy dollop of wit and humor.
